RESOURCES FOR ACADEMIC LIBRARIANS

ALA EDITIONS | ALA NEAL-SCHUMAN

A LETTER FROM THE PUBLISHER

IN AN ARTICLE IN THE JUNE 2018 ISSUE of College and Research Libraries News, the ACRL Research Planning and Review Committee took a close look at the trends and issues affecting academic libraries in higher education. The committee noted a number of key trends, including fake news and information literacy; project management approaches in libraries; textbook affordability and OER; learning analytics, data collection, and ethical concerns; research datasets acquisition, text mining, and data science; and legacy print collections. In this catalog, you will find new and noteworthy titles from ALA Editions | ALA Neal-Schuman; Facet Publishing, UK; and the Society of American Archivists (SAA) covering a wide spectrum of these vital areas and more.

Titles such as A Matter of Facts: The Value of Evidence in an Information Age, by Laura A. Millar, the first in the new Archival Futures series published jointly by SAA and ALA Neal-Schuman, and Academic Libraries for Commuter Students, edited by Mariana Regalado and Maura A. Smale are excellent resources you can add to your professional references. Additionally, foundational texts such as Fundamentals of Collection Development and Management, by Peggy Johnson; Reference and Information Services: An Introduction, by Kay Ann Cassell and Uma Hiremath; Records and Information Management, by Patricia C. Franks; and the complimentary books Foundations of Information Ethics, edited by John T. F. Burgess and Emily J. M. Knox, and Foundations of Information Policy, by Paul T. Jaeger and Natalie Greene Taylor, will be invaluable resources for your academic programs and your library.

And please take a look at page 25 to explore our exciting new series published in conjunction with the Center for the Future of Libraries. Titles in the series include Anonymity, by Alison Macrina and Talya Cooper; Resilience, by Rebekkah Smith Aldrich; Blockchain, by Susan Alman and Sandra Hirsh; and Design Thinking, by Rachel Ivy Clarke.

We at ALA Publishing wish you an exhilarating and fulfilling academic year.

Social Tagging for Linking Data Across Environments

EDITED BY DIANE PENNINGTON AND LOUISE SPITERI

print: 978-1-78330-338-0

Social tagging, hashtags, and geotags are used across a variety of platforms (Twitter, Facebook, Tumblr, WordPress, Instagram) in different countries and cultures. This book, representing researchers and practitioners across different information professions, explores how social tags can link content across a variety of environments as a form of linked data—without the complex implementation of RDF and other Semantic Web technologies. It will be useful reading for practicing library and information professionals who implement electronic access to collections, including catalogers, systems developers, information architects, and web developers, as well LIS students studying these subjects.

RDA Toolkit ONLINE SUBSCRIPTION

Designed for the digital world and an expanding universe of metadata users, RDA: Resource Description and Access is the new, unified cataloging standard. The online RDA Toolkit subscription is the most effective way to interact with the standard. RDA Toolkit helps catalogers, metadata professionals, and other library staff transition to RDA with numerous features, including

- » searchable and browseable presentation of RDA instructions in English, French, Spanish, Italian, Catalan, Finnish, and German languages;
- » editor tools that allow users to create, share, and access user generated content (workflows, maps, and a host of cataloging specific documents);
- » access to a collection of policy statements from national libraries and professional groups; and
- » full MARC record examples of RDA cataloging.

- » experienced catalogers needing a quick summary of RDA practice.

Library Futures Series

EDITED BY MIGUEL FIGUEROA, DIRECTOR, CENTER FOR THE FUTURE OF LIBRARIES

Formally launched in 2014, the American Library Association's Center for the Future of Libraries works toward three primary goals:

- » Identify emerging trends relevant to libraries and the communities they serve;
- » Promote futuring and innovation techniques to help librarians and library professionals shape their future; and
- » Build connections with experts and innovative thinkers to help libraries address emerging issues.

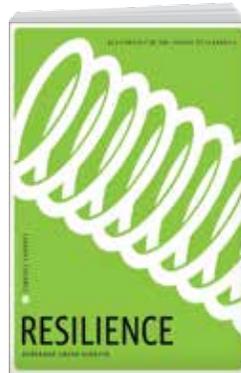

Expanding on that work, the Library Futures series brings together library experts and innovators to explore the profession's many futures by focusing on emerging trends.

LIS Textbooks and Course Books pp. 27–41

ALA NEAL-SCHUMAN is a proud publisher of titles for use in a variety of course topics, from Librarianship and Information Technology to Collection Management, Reference, Cataloging, and beyond.

Leaders in their fields, ALA authors have designed their titles with both instructor and student in mind.

We realize keeping textbook costs low is important. When you adopt an ALA title as a required text, we can set up a unique coupon code for your course that offers your students a 10% discount off the list price.

ALA Editions is a proud partner of Facet Publishing, the commercial publishing and bookselling arm of CILIP: the library and information association in the UK. Look for books with the Facet Publishing logo for a selection of quality titles on the topics of librarianship, information science, scholarly communication, cultural heritage, archives and records management and the digital humanities.

THIS JOURNAL IS OVERDUE

— and you're the author. Start writing!

- › Who is your fictional BFF?
- › What three authors would you invite to your fictional dinner party and what would they bring?
- › Write a love letter to a fictional flame.

Get your creative juices flowing with this collection of witty and thought-provoking writing prompts specifically for library lovers. More than just a blank book, This Journal Is Overdue is an invitation to daydream, doodle, and play. Rewrite the ending of a novel on your shelves, recount memories of the first time you read a favorite book from your childhood, pen an ode to your patrons, or jot down a jingle for your circulation team. Buy a copy for yourself, your boss, or a favorite colleague! Drawn from the creative minds of the ALA Editions staff, this book will please librarians, support staff, and all the other dedicated individuals who make library service possible every day.
